Life in Facebookland

We utilize advertisements to make your life more convenient. Our country has free education and healthcare, paid for entirely by advertisements. All the advertisements are tailored for your needs and interests using our state-of-the-art algorithms.

Using algorithms, we have created a sense of community in Facebookland that is unrivaled by other nations, all thanks to our president Mark Zuckerberg. Mr. Zuckerberg oversees the governance and life in Facebookland, and ensures it meets his high standards.
